PURPOSE:

To provide leader and specialty training for Noncommissioned Officers (NCOs) in Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) 25B at Skill Level Four (SL4). Training will provide the student with the skills, knowledge and technical expertise to provide leadership in planning, supervising, coordinating and directing the employment, operation, management, and maintenance of information technology systems in mobile and fixed facilities at all echelons.

COURSE SCOPE:

25B SLC students will receive Skill Level 4 resident technical training consisting of tasks related to Network Management from Cisco Certified Network Associate 4 (CCNA 4) and Command Post Of the Future (CPOF), Information Dissemination Management consisting of Microsoft Systems Center Configuration Manager and Structured Query Language (SQL). SLC students will also receive training to prepare the Army's Senior Noncommissioned Officers to lead both platoon and company operations while providing the necessary skills and attributes to lead and train Soldiers as a First Sergeant. The student will be challenged to apply skills and knowledge obtained in a tactical capstone field training exercise (FTX).

SPECIAL INFORMATION:

It is highly recommended that Soldiers visit the Signal Corps Regimental NCO Academy (RNCOA) website for information on resident course prerequisites, mandatory training requirements for graduation, and read ahead materials for the resident course. Students can access the RNCOA website directly at: <http://www.signal.army.mil/rncoa/>.
